INVITATION

On behalf of the Australasian Society of Clinical and Experimental Pharmacologists and Toxicologists (ASCEPT), the Asia Pacific Federation of Pharmacologists (APFP) and the Australasian Pharmaceutical Science Association (APSA) it gives us great pleasure to cordially invite you to support the inaugural joint congress of our societies to be held in Melbourne, Australia from 1 to 4 December 2024.

This joint congress will bring together international academics, researchers and educators in the fields of pharmacology, toxicology, pharmaceutical sciences, traditional medicines, clinical sciences, social sciences, pharmacy practice and education.

We anticipate there will be over 500 participants at the congress, including world-class experts, early career researchers and students who are all actively engaged in academic, industrial, pre-clinical or clinical pharmacology and toxicology, as well as pharmacy practice research.

Importantly, the joint congress will provide the opportunity to network with colleagues and other leading international and national scientists and academics at both scientific and social activities. A key feature of the congress is the chance for early career researchers and research students across all congress societies to present their research findings via poster and oral sessions.

We hope you will join us in Melbourne in 2024.

Australasian Society of Clinical and Experimental Pharmacologists and Toxicologists (ASCEPT)

ASCEPT is the professional and independent society in Australia and New Zealand for those with expertise in the use and toxicity of medicines and chemicals. ASCEPT is a member-based organisation and membership comprises clinicians, pharmacologists, pharmacists and scientists. Established in 1966, ASCEPT is affiliated with the International Union of Basic and Clinical Pharmacology (IUPHAR) and the International Union of Toxicology (IUTOX). ASCEPT has hosted International Congresses of Pharmacology (in 1987 and 2004) and Toxicology (in 2001 and 2004), and the South East Asian Western Pacific Regional Meeting of Pharmacologists (SEAWP-RMP) in 2007. ASCEPT is also very excited to be hosting the 20th IUPHAR World Congress of Basic and Clinical Pharmacology in Melbourne in 2026.

The Society values its members and provides high-quality scientific meetings. It also recognises the achievements of its members by awarding prestigious Society prizes including the Rand Medal, the ASCEPT Lecturer and the ASCEPT Achievement Award, as well as student prizes and early career awards. As we look to the future it is an exciting and challenging time for our professions, and the Society will continue to enhance our national and international reputation through its work. ASCEPT continues to attract new members from Australia and New Zealand as well as from international universities, independent research centres, governments and health services.

ASCEPT, APFP and APSA.

Asia Pacific Federation of Pharmacologists (APFP)

The Asia Pacific Federation of Pharmacologists includes the pharmacological societies (and their members) of countries in the Asia Pacific region.

The APFP defines pharmacology broadly as comprising pharmacology, clinical pharmacology, toxicology and clinical toxicology, and branches of pharmacology such as pharmacogenomics. It also includes the scientific study of traditional medicines and natural products with pharmacological activity, areas in which the region has a rich tradition.

Asia Pacific Federation objectives:

- The advancement of research, teaching and community service in pharmacology.
- The fostering of cooperation between pharmacological societies and pharmacologists in the region.
- Encouragement of the formation of special interest groups in areas of pharmacology that are of interest and significance to the region
- Encouragement of free association between pharmacologists of the region, including the holding of regional meetings on a regular basis.
- Liaison with relevant international organisations, particularly IUPHAR.
- Liaison with other relevant biomedical organisations in the region and in the Pacific rim (e.g. the Western Pharmacological Society).

Australasian Pharmaceutical Science Association (APSA)

The Australasian Pharmaceutical Science Association (APSA) is a professional society for individuals with an interest in the pharmaceutical sciences and their practice. The Association strives to promote and advance the study and application of the pharmaceutical sciences and to facilitate the exchange of information and experiences between pharmaceutical scientists, pharmacy practice researchers and pharmacy education experts in Australasia. APSA also aims to promote its own education arm and to foster early career researchers through dedicated symposia at our annual conferences. APSA is a member organisation of the International Pharmaceutical Federation (FIP), a global federation representing pharmacists and pharmaceutical scientists worldwide.

Membership is drawn from the Pharmacy Schools of Australia and New Zealand, the pharmaceutical and biotechnology industries, and associated government departments. Annual conferences and regular short courses provide a forum for presentation of research and development applications from all branches of the pharmaceutical sciences, pharmacy practice and pharmacy education. APSA recognises excellence by providing several competitive awards for members at varying stages of their scientific careers. The APSA medal is our association's highest award to recognize excellence and lasting contribution to the pharmaceutical sciences, pharmacy practice and/or pharmacy education. In addition, in recognition of the valuable contribution of our student and early career researchers, APSA provides forum, travel grants and prizes.
